

WATCH HERE FOR KIDNAPPERS AND A STOLEN BABY

Frederick Dessauer and Four Friends in Auto Tear Child From Mother.

TWO WOMEN IN PARTY.

Mrs. Dessauer, Her Mother and Friend Beaten and Choked Defending Little One.

On warrants bearing assault and kidnapping, Ferdinand Dessauer, jr., two other men and two women are being sought by the police of New York and surrounding towns to-day. For fear an effort will be made to get little Louise Dessauer, the three-year-old child who was kidnapped by her father and his companions from Middletown, N. Y., last evening, to some foreign port, detectives are watching all outgoing steamships.

Mrs. Dessauer and her husband are separated, and she has been living with her father, Frederick Kloch, in Wall-kill avenue, Middletown. According to the report received by the police here, three men and two women drove up to the Kloch home last evening. Two of the men alighted and, on being admitted to the house by Mrs. Kloch, told her they wanted to see her husband.

"Mr. Kloch is out now," she told the callers, "but he will return in a short time. Won't you wait for him?"

Mrs. Kloch is an old woman. With her at the time were her daughter, Mrs. Dessauer, and her child and Mrs. John Welch and the latter's three-year-old daughter.

"Yes, I suppose we had better wait," said one of the men, and the two took seats. The two men had been in the house but a short time when the automobile drove down the street, and the men ran downstairs, opening the door and admitting the third man of the party, who was recognized as Ferdinand Dessauer, jr., of New York.

Dessauer Grabs Child. The three men ran into the room where the woman and children were and one of them seized Mrs. Welch's child, saying, "Is this the girl?" Dessauer replied that it was not and seized the other child. The mother and her husband interfered, but one of the men struck Mrs. Kloch, while another choked Mrs. Dessauer until she was nearly unconscious and had to release her hold on the child. The man then threw her to the floor and all three rushed out for the street with the little girl. The men quickly landed the child to the two women in the automobile and all disappeared at high speed while the mother, grandmother and a crowd of women following ran after the automobile, remaining at the top of their voices. A posse of police, headed by Chief J. D. McCosch, with a number of citizens in an automobile, took up the pursuit of the kidnappers. The automobile, which was a large touring car with a canopy top, was seen in the distance, disappearing from the city and going in the direction of the New Jersey line.

Alleged He Was Inmate. Mr. and Mrs. Dessauer have not been together for eighteen months. Mrs. Dessauer alleges as the cause that her husband is not in his right mind and that he has threatened to kill her. Dessauer is a son of Ferdinand Dessauer, a wealthy real-estate magnate of New York.
